

Parker, Bridget & Co.
Clothing, 315 7th st.

Better get in bright and early for first pick of those six lots of Men's $10 Suits which we have dropped to $6.50. Just as good qualities as any $10 suit in the house. These particular patterns have not been fancied, but as that is a matter of taste you may like one of these better than any other $10 suit we have. If you do, you save $3.50.

Parker, Bridget & Co.
CLOTHING
315 Seventh Street.

TIGERS ARE CONFIDENT

They Expect to Score an Easy Victory Over Yale.

CHANGES IN THE LINE-UP

Armstrong Will Be Relegated to the Side Lines, While Kelly Will Take His Place at Left Half Back—Phil King Talks of the Coming Struggle, Grounds Closely Watched.

(Special to The Times.) Princeton, N. J., Nov. 18.—In spite of the great showing made by Yale in Saturday's game, the Princeton boys are confident that victory will crown their efforts when they line up against the sons of Old Eli next Saturday.

The long list of cripples which have given the Princeton outfit such a fit of the blues for the past week is rapidly diminishing, and by the afternoon of the game it is expected to have them all in line, with the possible exception of Capt. Lea.

There was joy in the camp yesterday when it was announced that Kelly is again fit to play, and will be in condition to enter into practice by Tuesday at the latest. Osborn Club House is alive with devotees of the sport of the pigskin, and they, one and all, predict a victory.

CHANGES WILL BE MADE. There will be some important changes made in the lineup of the team. Armstrong will be relegated to the side lines, and Kelly will be placed at left half back in his place.

The latter is a little weak in interference, but is the sure ground-gainer of the two, and Capt. Lea will red that he has a man who will not let him in come to a tight pitch. Armstrong, on the other hand, might get the best but rattled if he was forced into a tight hole.

A long line of subs will be on the field and give the boys some stiff practice games. Word had been received from several alumni that they will arrive on the scene of action today. "Red" Wheeler, Phil King, "Honey" Janczewski, Harry Brown and Johnny Poe, with the strongest team in the substitute line, will constitute the scrub.

There were many of them present at the Yale-Orange game, and they will endeavor to imitate Yale's style of play in the practice game. The moves that the Yale men could upon to win will be thoroughly demonstrated to the Tigers, who will try to learn to make these moves.

GROUNDING STRICTLY WATCHED. One would think that the campus was a battlefield. The grounds are as strictly watched as if they contained a whole army of convicts who were planning to escape at a moment's notice.

Upper class men are patrolling them from one end to the other. No one is allowed to come within a quarter of a mile of them unless he is connected with the institution in some capacity.

"Phil" King in speaking of next Saturday's game said that he thought the Princeton men would not only win, but that they would have a comparatively easy victory. "I do not underestimate the strength of the Yale eleven," he said, "but the Tigers have such a strong aggregation of players that they are all but invincible."

The splendid showing made by Yale against the Orange Athletic Club proved conclusively that they can put up a very strong team. The Orange men not only thought they had a chance to hold the Yale boys down, but had faint hopes that they might win.

Yale certainly made immense strides during one week. From their hard contest with Brown, when they with difficulty lost, their opponents were brought down, to rolling up such a score as they did against a team like Orange was little short of miraculous.

Despite the reports that came from Princeton that they think they will have an easy victory, it is hard to see just how they figure it out. They may win, but they will know they have been in a football match before they are through. A great game may be expected.

The officials for the Yale-Princeton game have been chosen by the two colleges. Each party selected several men, from whom the other college picked one. For umpire Princeton chose Paul Dashiell of Lehigh, and for referee Yale took ex-Capt. McHugh of Yale, now studying at Lehigh.

Yale was fortunate in not having any of her best players crippled during the game. Capt. Thorne and Fullback Jerrold were slightly injured, but they could have continued in the game had they seen fit. When Thorne retired, the game was 10 to 0 in Yale's favor, and Jerrold left the game in the second half with a lame leg. He wanted to continue, but Capt. Thorne advised him to get out. The Witt and Fincke held out well, considering the fact that they were in the midst of many rough scrimmages, while the line men took their ground without a murmur. Only twice during the game was it necessary to call time for injuries to Yale players. Thorne's head was severely bruised and cut in previous games, and he had a weak knee.

Morton Line Steamer Ashore. New York, Nov. 18.—News has been received here by the agents of the Morton line of steamers that their steamer Manitoa, Capt. Millington, from Brazil ports for New York, is ashore at Beach Haven, N. J. It is not known whether the Manitoa brings passengers on this trip. Her crew numbers about twenty-eight.

Everyone of the several hundred pieces of metal that go to build a "COLUMBIA" undergoes separate scrutiny and test before it is used. That's why there's no weak place in a "Columbia" wheel.

No place for the learner like Columbia Field. Guarantee tickets $2.

District Cycle Co., "COLUMBIA" HARTFORDS.
J. Hart Biddle, Manager.
452 Pa. Ave.

LOOKING FOR REMEDY

Probable Action of Republicans Relative to Finance.

REVENUES TO BE INCREASED

Various Plans Are Advanced by the Leaders—Temporary Certificate of Indebtedness Would Be Authorized. Strong Effort to Secure an Early Adjournment.

Representatives and Senators as they come into Washington express various opinions as to the probable Congress likely to afford for the present Treasury condition.

There is a strong feeling among Republicans that the lack of revenue is at the bottom of all the trouble, and that measures must be passed to increase Treasury receipts. If the President, as has been intimated, calls upon Congress for authority to issue temporary certificates of indebtedness, such as were suggested last winter by Senator Allison and ex-Speaker Reed, it is thought it will be granted.

But the main idea of getting at the root of the difficulty by providing more revenue will probably be carried out. Senator Wilson, of Washington, has arrived, and though of free silver tendencies, he admits that something heroic should be done to relieve the Treasury.

"One way of providing gold," he said, "would be to have all imports paid in that metal. There are, however, means of raising sufficient revenue so that the reserve of the Treasury need not be encroached upon to pay current expenses, and that is by reimposing duties on articles of import which were cut unmercifully in the present law. There should be a duty placed upon wool, and on manufactures, upon lumber, agricultural products and coal and other articles that were either placed on the free list or under heavily reduced tariff duties."

GORHAM-BLICE BILL. "We have had an illustration up in my country of how this Gorman-Blice bill operates in regard to some of these articles. We have huge deposits of coal right near Olympia, Tacoma and Seattle, but British Columbia, under the Gorman-Blice bill, is being sold in these cities at rates with which our local mines cannot compete. The cheap labor in British Columbia would make it impossible for our mines to compete. The tariff law has worked a tremendous injury to the wool industry in my State and also to farm products. I think the matter of reimposing proper protective duties on these products will be considered in Congress."

But there are those who believe that in framing revenue legislation Mr. Cleveland is not to be considered. Backed by an overwhelming popular sentiment, the Republican leaders believe that they can pass over his veto, if need be, such moderate legislation as they desire. This does not mean that there will be any attempt at a general revision of the tariff, but various schedules will be changed in such a way as most easily to increase the revenues and at the same time afford adequate protection.

Mr. Dabell, of Pennsylvania, whose position as a member of the Ways and Means committee is well known, declares that the next Congress would be false to its trust if it did not pass legislation which would provide for revenue by a protective duty.

"It will not be a revision of the tariff," he said, "but it will be a measure that will afford sufficient revenue from our custom houses to pay the expenses of our government as they are incurred. It will be a measure passed by the Republicans and on the line of Republican principles. If it does not meet with the approval of the President, let me sacrifice to make it those who are fresh from the people and who have their instructions; but let the sacrifice be made by the Chief Executive, whose policy the people have been condemning."

This is the position taken by Senator Chandler, and, so far as known, by every other Republican leader of standing and influence. Senator Quay proposes to encourage the House to make the revenue as generous as to provide for a magnificent system of public works.

This proposition will be very fully discussed and advanced in the next stage of legislation while Mr. Cleveland remains in the White House. It will be the aim of the managers both in the Senate and in the House to hold up the business of Congress just as soon as possible.

There will be a strong endeavor to secure an adjournment in May or June at the latest, and if this achievement is accomplished there can be no general legislation of any moment.

Such work as is done in the direction of formulating a foreign policy will be by resolution and vote of the House. The Monroe doctrine will be announced for the first time as a principle approved by Congress and as the keynote of American diplomacy, as the Western hemisphere is concerned.

The light will be turned on the performance of the State Department during the past year, and there will be an unmistakable utterance of some kind with regard to Hawaii and the American control of the Nicaragua Canal, while the balance of the bill will be devoted to the complications sure to arise in the Orient and the Levant will receive proper consideration in a genuinely American way as they may come up.

REORGANIZATION TALK. There is a great deal of speculation concerning the reorganization of the Senate. It is certain that the older Republican Senators do not want to accept the responsibility of legislation, if it can be shirked.

Senator Butler of North Carolina, and Senator Jones of Nevada, both of them elected by Republican votes, will be likely to keep away from the Republican caucus. Their presence would make forty-four Senators, just exactly enough to completely reorganize the Senate and place the Republicans in control.

The pursuit of this policy will drive tens of thousands of Republican voters out of the party in the Presidential contest of 1896, but it seems to be a settled thing that this policy will be pursued by the Republican managers.

It alone seems to be certain that the Republicans will choose a president pro tempore. This will be absolutely necessary.

It seems quite likely that the Senate committees will also be reorganized and Republican chairmen chosen. No business can be done until these matters are attended to.

Then will come up the question of selecting a secretary and sergeant-at-arms. There it is supposed that the Republicans will stop, and that at the wonderful problem. Today it seems to be incapable of solution. But, after all, it is simply a question of decision between place holders.

It is said that George C. Gorham of California will be a candidate for the position of secretary, an office held by him with credit for twelve years. He is a man of great ability. He will have the support of the silver men of the West, and two of the Populist Senators will gladly vote for him if he can receive the caucus nomination.

MANY ENEMIES. His friendship for Boone Conkling at one time brought him many enemies in the Senate, but they may not oppose him now. Blaine and Conkling are both dead, and the Republicans of the present will not want to revive the animosities of that partisan internecine struggle. Before a Republican caucus George C. Gorham will not be out of place.

Then the Republican caucus must solve another problem, and it is unique. Ex-Congressman Valentine of Nebraska, who was Sergeant-at-Arms of the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congresses, is a candidate for that position.

Strange as it may appear, he will be an

GRIFFO AND GANS CONTEST

Should Put Up a Good Exhibition at the Baltimore Eureka Club.

Meet in a Ten-Round Bout.

Other Boxing Cleanings.

(Special to The Times.) Baltimore, Nov. 18.—Everything is in readiness for the boxing carnival at the Eureka Athletic Club, under the auspices of the Eureka Athletic Club, Manager Herford has arranged a good programme for lovers of the sport, and a large contingent of pugilistically-inclined gentlemen will not be on hand.

Joe Gans has not lost any time getting into shape since he was defeated by "Young" Griffio, and is in first-class condition. The colored boy knows that this is the chance of his life, and he is depended upon to do his best. He is somewhat friendly in the betting line, however, as the sportsmen to regard the Australian as a 1 to 10 chance.

In addition to the stellar attraction, which will be a ten-round affair, there will be two bouts of lesser consequence. "Boy" English, of this city, and Jack Ward, the banian champion of the Eastern States, will box ten rounds, and "Turkey Point" Smith and Joe Elliott, both of this city, will have a six-round fast argument.

GENERAL BOXING GOSSIP. There can be no doubt but what Peter Maher wants to fight. He has not only announced his intention of giving up the stage and going into the "scrapping" business on an extensive scale, but he has actually been living, but he is after the biggest game in sight the first crack out of the box.

"Lanky Bob," the windy pugilist with the fiery hair, is the gentleman upon whom the big Irishman has set his eyes, and he announces it as his intention not to give the kangaroo scrapper time to make any excuses, but to force him into a match with a sudden and effective manner in which Mr. Maher put "Gentleman Jim" on the ropes, and Steve O'Donnell, in the land of dreams, has not forgotten Joe Chynski's defeat, Chynski said: "It is very evident that Maher was given to understand that O'Donnell could not hurt him, or he would not have taken the fight. I can't understand what O'Donnell was doing to let a man get in such a blow on him."

Chynski has written to his manager, Parsons Davies, urging the latter to make a match for him with the Irishman at once. Davies is ready and willing to do so, but does not want to force himself upon Maher, who is a very popular man, and says that he will settle down to some extent before he sends in a challenge.

"Dan" Stuart still seems to hang on to the idea that the crowd got out of the Eureka Athletic Club together for a battle for the championship. As far as can be learned he is the only person on this side of the Atlantic who for some time past has thought that they will ever come together.

"Champion Jim" was ready to give up the belt to the first person who is willing to get out and put up his "socks" for it. He was offered a challenge by a man who nearly fell over himself in his desire to take the belt off of Maher, and got rid of the matter just as soon as he could.

The ex-champion's new play, "A Naval Cadet," opens on the 25th instant, and if it should by any mishap prove a success there will not be one chance in a thousand that he will be forced to return to the ring. The only thing that will induce him to fight will be a desire to replenish his bank account.

Although "Jack" McAniff has not fought at the lightweight limit in years he still lays claim to the championship and now comes out with another offer to a man who is in the world for the championship and a $20,000 side bet.

Dick Roache is behind this offer, but claims that he is speaking for a promoter. New Yorker who is willing to put up the cash.

In making this offer Roache said: "I want it understood that I am not making a bet with you, but I am making a bet with the public that it will not be long before a man who is a better fighter than I am will come out and beat me. I have placed in my possession a liberal forfeit, which I am ready to post at a moment's notice to ensure that the entire $20,000 will be put up inside of twenty-four hours after the offer is accepted."

"Many persons think that he is a 'big shot' and that he will never be able to hold his own in the ring, but the person who offers to back him thinks otherwise, and his money talks." Quite a difference of opinion exists regarding McAniff's ability to hold his own in the ring, but the fact that he has found a backer to the extent of $20,000 is significant.

"Young" Griffio is to be congratulated upon his present age. He must be a corker. That "pipe" story of the rescue of two young ladies from the attack of the chappies was a masterpiece. It is said that when the Australian was in the ring he was so popular with the public. He is not any too particular as to how he does it, as anything seems to "go."

By the way, Washington sports will be given a chance within a week or so of seeing the "phenom." Joe Bateman's backer, Joe Wilson, has made arrangements to bring him over here some time during December. Wilson will box a ten-round with Jack Daly or some other handy young scrapper.

As Pete Lowry refused to meet "Toddy" Banks of this city in the fifteen-round bout that was scheduled to take place some time during the coming week, arrangements have been made for "Johnny" Ball of Wilmington to take his place, and the bout will be pulled off as soon as possible.

Those in charge of the affair are not going to take any chance of party interference, and they are making arrangements to hire a large or steamer and have the fight take place down the river.

An effort is being made by John P. Dunn to bring Solly Smith and Australian Billy Murphy together in a twenty-five round go at 120 pounds. Both lads have signified their willingness to sign articles, Murphy stipulating, however, that Smith put a forfeit to guarantee that he will not weigh more than 120 pounds at the ring side.

Dick Moore of St. Paul and Paddy Parrell have been matched to fight November 23, within twenty-five miles of Kansas City, for $500 a side. J. H. Herman of St. Paul also will be in attendance. Five races on the programme.

Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," is appearing at Casino in Paris. He has issued a challenge to spar with anybody at his weight for 12,500 francs—$2,500 a side.

PATE'S NEW TRACK OPENED. Fashion and Wealth Turned Out to Witness the Inaugural Races. St. Louis, Nov. 18.—A special from the City of Mexico says that the inaugural races of R. C. Pate's new track, which was held yesterday under most favorable auspices. The wealth and fashion of the capital turned out, and more than 5,000 persons attended. Several of the President's cabinet officers were present, among them being Manuel Fernandez Leal, secretary of public works, and Joaquin Arana, secretary of justice and instruction. The governor of the Federal district and other dignitaries also were in attendance. Five races on the programme.

CATARRH Can BE CURED
But Gov. Matthews Will Deliver the Cuban Address, Anyway.

Clinton, Ind., Nov. 18.—Gov. Matthews yesterday buried his only son here in the quiet of a Republican funeral. There were present Senators Turpie and Voorhees, all the State officials, members of the supreme court and 4,000 people. A special train from Indianapolis brought 500 people. Flowers came from all parts of the State.

As his absence would seriously inconvenience the Philadelphia Brigade Association, Gov. Matthews will deliver the Cuban address Thursday night, notwithstanding the circumstances, but will not attend the reception planned in his honor.

CATARRH Can BE CURED
THE ONLY CURE KNOWN.
A GUARANTEE GIVEN.

MR. W. J. HALL, 749 W. Franklin st., Baltimore, Md., the great, tenor singer and prominent Mason. While I must admit that, previous to my using Dr. Fisher's Catarrh Cure, I had little faith in any supposed permanent cure for my trouble, CATARRH, I am compelled to acknowledge that Dr. Fisher has a remedy which can and will cure catarrh. I am better today than I have been for years, and have nothing to thank for it but

Dr. George W. Fisher's Catarrh Cure.
PRICE, 50 CENTS. BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
For further information apply to Alfred S. Gwiler, General Agent, 613 15th st. N.W.

GRIFFO AND GANS CONTEST

Should Put Up a Good Exhibition at the Baltimore Eureka Club.

Meet in a Ten-Round Bout.

Other Boxing Cleanings.

(Special to The Times.) Baltimore, Nov. 18.—Everything is in readiness for the boxing carnival at the Eureka Athletic Club, under the auspices of the Eureka Athletic Club, Manager Herford has arranged a good programme for lovers of the sport, and a large contingent of pugilistically-inclined gentlemen will not be on hand.

Joe Gans has not lost any time getting into shape since he was defeated by "Young" Griffio, and is in first-class condition. The colored boy knows that this is the chance of his life, and he is depended upon to do his best. He is somewhat friendly in the betting line, however, as the sportsmen to regard the Australian as a 1 to 10 chance.

In addition to the stellar attraction, which will be a ten-round affair, there will be two bouts of lesser consequence. "Boy" English, of this city, and Jack Ward, the banian champion of the Eastern States, will box ten rounds, and "Turkey Point" Smith and Joe Elliott, both of this city, will have a six-round fast argument.

GENERAL BOXING GOSSIP. There can be no doubt but what Peter Maher wants to fight. He has not only announced his intention of giving up the stage and going into the "scrapping" business on an extensive scale, but he has actually been living, but he is after the biggest game in sight the first crack out of the box.

"Lanky Bob," the windy pugilist with the fiery hair, is the gentleman upon whom the big Irishman has set his eyes, and he announces it as his intention not to give the kangaroo scrapper time to make any excuses, but to force him into a match with a sudden and effective manner in which Mr. Maher put "Gentleman Jim" on the ropes, and Steve O'Donnell, in the land of dreams, has not forgotten Joe Chynski's defeat, Chynski said: "It is very evident that Maher was given to understand that O'Donnell could not hurt him, or he would not have taken the fight. I can't understand what O'Donnell was doing to let a man get in such a blow on him."

Chynski has written to his manager, Parsons Davies, urging the latter to make a match for him with the Irishman at once. Davies is ready and willing to do so, but does not want to force himself upon Maher, who is a very popular man, and says that he will settle down to some extent before he sends in a challenge.

"Dan" Stuart still seems to hang on to the idea that the crowd got out of the Eureka Athletic Club together for a battle for the championship. As far as can be learned he is the only person on this side of the Atlantic who for some time past has thought that they will ever come together.

"Champion Jim" was ready to give up the belt to the first person who is willing to get out and put up his "socks" for it. He was offered a challenge by a man who nearly fell over himself in his desire to take the belt off of Maher, and got rid of the matter just as soon as he could.

The ex-champion's new play, "A Naval Cadet," opens on the 25th instant, and if it should by any mishap prove a success there will not be one chance in a thousand that he will be forced to return to the ring. The only thing that will induce him to fight will be a desire to replenish his bank account.

Although "Jack" McAniff has not fought at the lightweight limit in years he still lays claim to the championship and now comes out with another offer to a man who is in the world for the championship and a $20,000 side bet.

Dick Roache is behind this offer, but claims that he is speaking for a promoter. New Yorker who is willing to put up the cash.

In making this offer Roache said: "I want it understood that I am not making a bet with you, but I am making a bet with the public that it will not be long before a man who is a better fighter than I am will come out and beat me. I have placed in my possession a liberal forfeit, which I am ready to post at a moment's notice to ensure that the entire $20,000 will be put up inside of twenty-four hours after the offer is accepted."

"Many persons think that he is a 'big shot' and that he will never be able to hold his own in the ring, but the person who offers to back him thinks otherwise, and his money talks." Quite a difference of opinion exists regarding McAniff's ability to hold his own in the ring, but the fact that he has found a backer to the extent of $20,000 is significant.

"Young" Griffio is to be congratulated upon his present age. He must be a corker. That "pipe" story of the rescue of two young ladies from the attack of the chappies was a masterpiece. It is said that when the Australian was in the ring he was so popular with the public. He is not any too particular as to how he does it, as anything seems to "go."

By the way, Washington sports will be given a chance within a week or so of seeing the "phenom." Joe Bateman's backer, Joe Wilson, has made arrangements to bring him over here some time during December. Wilson will box a ten-round with Jack Daly or some other handy young scrapper.

As Pete Lowry refused to meet "Toddy" Banks of this city in the fifteen-round bout that was scheduled to take place some time during the coming week, arrangements have been made for "Johnny" Ball of Wilmington to take his place, and the bout will be pulled off as soon as possible.

Those in charge of the affair are not going to take any chance of party interference, and they are making arrangements to hire a large or steamer and have the fight take place down the river.

An effort is being made by John P. Dunn to bring Solly Smith and Australian Billy Murphy together in a twenty-five round go at 120 pounds. Both lads have signified their willingness to sign articles, Murphy stipulating, however, that Smith put a forfeit to guarantee that he will not weigh more than 120 pounds at the ring side.

Dick Moore of St. Paul and Paddy Parrell have been matched to fight November 23, within twenty-five miles of Kansas City, for $500 a side. J. H. Herman of St. Paul also will be in attendance. Five races on the programme.

Frank Craig, the "Harlem Coffee Cooler," is appearing at Casino in Paris. He has issued a challenge to spar with anybody at his weight for 12,500 francs—$2,500 a side.

PATE'S NEW TRACK OPENED. Fashion and Wealth Turned Out to Witness the Inaugural Races. St. Louis, Nov. 18.—A special from the City of Mexico says that the inaugural races of R. C. Pate's new track, which was held yesterday under most favorable auspices. The wealth and fashion of the capital turned out, and more than 5,000 persons attended. Several of the President's cabinet officers were present, among them being Manuel Fernandez Leal, secretary of public works, and Joaquin Arana, secretary of justice and instruction. The governor of the Federal district and other dignitaries also were in attendance. Five races on the programme.

CATARRH Can BE CURED
But Gov. Matthews Will Deliver the Cuban Address, Anyway.

Clinton, Ind., Nov. 18.—Gov. Matthews yesterday buried his only son here in the quiet of a Republican funeral. There were present Senators Turpie and Voorhees, all the State officials, members of the supreme court and 4,000 people. A special train from Indianapolis brought 500 people. Flowers came from all parts of the State.

As his absence would seriously inconvenience the Philadelphia Brigade Association, Gov. Matthews will deliver the Cuban address Thursday night, notwithstanding the circumstances, but will not attend the reception planned in his honor.

CATARRH Can BE CURED
THE ONLY CURE KNOWN.
A GUARANTEE GIVEN.

MR. W. J. HALL, 749 W. Franklin st., Baltimore, Md., the great, tenor singer and prominent Mason. While I must admit that, previous to my using Dr. Fisher's Catarrh Cure, I had little faith in any supposed permanent cure for my trouble, CATARRH, I am compelled to acknowledge that Dr. Fisher has a remedy which can and will cure catarrh. I am better today than I have been for years, and have nothing to thank for it but

Dr. George W. Fisher's Catarrh Cure.
PRICE, 50 CENTS. BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
For further information apply to Alfred S. Gwiler, General Agent, 613 15th st. N.W.

FINED OUT A HEARD

Judge Kimball Withdraws Sentence of James Anderson.

CASE OF CONTRADICTIONS

Reckless Driver Was Given a Reduction of $1 in the Amount of His Fine, as He Only Had $6—Evidence That Must Be Offered in the Police Court.

Sixty-one violators of the District ordinances partook of a police court breakfast this morning, and afterwards crowded into the dock in Judge Kimball's court. They were nearly all of one color—very black—and their somber hues were intensified by dirt. It was the usual Monday morning crowd, and the court settled down for a hard day's work.

Christopher Thomas, one of the few white men in the dock, was the first one to step up to the rail. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving.

"This man was running his horse down North Carolina avenue," said the policeman, "and at first I thought he was running away; but he had his whip in his hand, and was lashing the animal furiously. He started to turn a corner, but was going so fast that the horse ran up on the pavement and into a tree."

"Your honor," said the prisoner, "the horse was running away. I didn't have any control of him."

"What were you whipping him for?" "I didn't use my whip at all."

SHE HAD BUT NINE DOLLARS. Christopher stepped back, but later in the morning his sister appeared with $9, and at the suggestion of Prosecuting Attorney Pugh the case was reduced to that amount.

Joseph Chase, Alexander Barber, Boyd Walker, Charles Lancaster, James Brown, and Otis Evans all pleaded not guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and crap shooting.

"Last Thursday," said the policeman, "I was told that big game was being run in Blagden's alley. I went up, and in a short while running off from it I saw this crowd, apparently shooting crap."

"I saw 'em run, but I didn't see no crap shooting."

"Why did you tell this officer that you saw $1.50 to lay on the ground?" "I didn't tell him that."

"If this is the only witness you have," said Judge Kimball, "the case is dismissed."

THEY WERE DISMISSED. William was the only witness, and the crowd of alleged petty gamblers fled out. James Nelson and Joseph Brown were charged with being disorderly in Glick's alley.

About 9 o'clock last night these two boys and a lot of others were congregated in the alley, shouting and swearing," said the policeman. "I could hear them before I got to the alley."

"What part did these two boys take in it?" asked the judge.

"They were in the crowd, your honor."

"Did you hear them say anything?" "No, sir, but I'm pretty sure they were disorderly."

"That isn't proof enough, though," said Judge Kimball. "The case is dismissed."

William Clark and Charles Wilson were charged with disorderly conduct by Special Officer Birlingame. Lawyer Payton defended them.